FOR THE AEP PARTNERSHIP MEETING

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE +
ARTS EDUCATION

AUG. 3
(3 – 4:30 PM ET)

Join us next week for the Quarterly Partnership Meeting! This quarter's virtual meeting will focus on how artificial intelligence (AI) could affect arts learning and the arts workforce. In this session, we'll learn how AI has evolved over time and what experiences are possible with generative AI in the classroom and workforce. We'll also learn about AI tools and how to be more responsible AI users.

Check Out the Annual Convening Agenda!

Are you thinking about attending the 2023 Annual Convening but haven't decided yet?

Check out the Convening agenda! Through thoughtful discussion and feedback from our partners, affiliates and the Portland local planning committee, we have worked to create an engaging agenda that is welcoming and highlights a variety of voices. Aligning with our mission to build leadership capacity, we are happy to share that all 12 of our concurrent sessions include at least one first-time speaker at an AEP event!

Culture Blocks Program Helping Seniors Dance Without Limits

Watch this new video from the Arts & Science Council (ASC). Dance Without Limits is a senior dance class designed to help participants of all levels improve their strength, coordination and mobility while learning new steps and styles. The program, presented by Order My Steps, is one of the ways ASC's Culture Blocks connects residents with relevant cultural programming close to home - at their local recreation centers, libraries, parks and more.

Call for Proposals: Nonprofit Management Institute

The Nonprofit Management Institute, a collaboration between the NAMM Foundation and Young Audiences Arts for Learning, seeks proposals for sessions for its event, held concurrently with the NAMM Show in Anaheim, California, in January 2024. Proposals should focus on fundraising, governance, effective practices and other topics of interest for nonprofit managers. Proposals must be submitted online by Sept. 13.

News From the Field

2023 Wisconsin Creativity Summit

Register today for the 2023 Wisconsin Creativity Summit! This virtual event will be hosted by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction on Aug. 21 from 1-5 p.m. CDT. The goal of the event is to inspire educators, administrators, policy makers, business leaders and community members to consider the role of creativity in our schools.

Rise for Mental Health Tour

Les Twins, feature dancers on Beyoncé's Renaissance tour, and Kids Write Network have partnered to support student mental health. The Rise for Mental Health tour will begin in October 2023 in schools, hospitals and community venues. Through the program, young people learn how to use dance and movement to support their mental health. The program culminates with a visit from Les Twins, Laurent and Larry Bourgeois. Educators can register their school on Kids Write Network's website.
